YWK-50-C Pressure Controller

YWK 50-C Type Pressure Controller is an electric switch that can make the circuit close or open following the change of pressure. It can be used to control pressure gas, steam or liquid by two position type to support performance structure in ship and freeze equipment or other industrial equipment.